

BOTH FORCES IN WPA CRISIS SHOW DETERMINATION

Becomes Stick-It-Out Struggle; Neither Wants to Give Ground

PRESIDENT'S WARNING

Strikers Told They Cannot Strike Against Federal Government

WASHINGTON, July 15—(INS)—The WPA crisis today became a stick-it-out struggle between two forces equally determined not to give ground.

On one side, thousands of WPA workers doggedly continue protest strikes against wages and hours provisions of the new relief act.

They want the prevailing rate of wage. Thousands are risking dismissal to continue work stoppages throughout the nation.

On the other side WPA, headed by Commissioner F. C. Harrington, Army colonel who always has followed the never-retreat code, stands fast on its policy that workers who remain idle five or more days will be dismissed.

The agency's policy is being carried out to the letter. Thousands of striking WPA'ers have been, and are being, dismissed for five or more days idleness. Col. Harrington points out that the act is law, and the WPA has no power to change it.

At the White House, the nation's chief executive warned the strikers they cannot strike against the Federal Government. Mr. Roosevelt's statement followed a similar comment from attorney general Frank Murphy, who, at the same time, said the Justice Department would investigate reports of intimidation in WPA strikes in various parts of the country.

Specifically, the strikers object to working 130 hours per month, a requirement of the act. Many of them were able to earn the security wage in as little as 50 hours under the prevailing wage principle used previously.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 15—(INS)—Placed with a warning that civil war loomed over the city, all WPA projects in Minneapolis were closed today following a wild night of rioting in which one man was shot to death and 28 wounded or beaten.

The shutdown order was issued at midnight by Linus Glotzbach, state WPA administrator.

Two hours earlier, as the fighting still echoed in the city, Mayor George L. Leach stepped to the radio in the emergency and announced:

"In order to avoid civil war in Minneapolis, from now on we will assume no responsibility for the conduct on these Federal projects."

His dire warning and Glotzbach's drastic order came as the culmination to a week of tension and violence climaxed by the disorders yesterday which involved crowds estimated as high as 4,000 persons.

The police, Mayor Leach indicated, find themselves unable to cope with such mass demonstrations.

The rioting yesterday and last night centered around the same sewing project where an outbreak occurred on Monday that resulted in the death of a policeman from overstrain.

While earlier clashes were of a serious nature, the ones yesterday assumed the proportions of a pitched battle. Ranged in one side were a force of thousands of WPA strikers and sympathizers. Facing them were 55 patrolmen, 15 motorcycle officers, and five armored police cars.

NEW CHINESE STRATEGY MEANS JAPANESE LOSSES

Such Strategy Envelopes Over-Extended Lines of The Japanese

WAR NOW 3 YEARS OLD

SHANGHAI, July 15—(INS)—Heavy field battles and concentrated aerial bombings by Japanese forces continued today in widely separated Chinese areas with severe losses reported against the Nipponese invaders in recent weeks when Chinese military strategy enveloped over-extended Japanese lines.

As the undeclared war passed its third anniversary on July 7, Japanese forces were reported replenished with fresh troops from home to permit worn out elements retirement to occupied areas for patrol duty.

Japanese figures total 59,000 dead. Unofficial foreign military estimates are 160,000 dead and 200,000 to 300,000 men wounded or sick.

A Chinese force reported at 100,000, comprising two divisions, supported by menacing guerrilla bands and organized communist troops, is proving difficult for Japanese garrison forces to subdue in southern Shantung province.

Occupied railways have been cut in numerous places along the Tsinan-Tsingtao and the Tientsin-Pukow lines. General offensives are under way by Japanese in several unidentified localities, operating on both sides of important railway lines.

Japanese warfare in China today appears more intensive, and certainly more widespread, than three years ago when the initial gunfire at Marco Polo bridge near Peking precipitated the present unprecedented continental campaign.

Chinese bandits continue destruction of railways, trains, bridges, villages, guard-houses, reservoirs, poisoning wells, planting land mines and plotting scattered attacks on Japanese units.

General Chou En-lai, representing China's supreme military commission, declared at Chungking that China's strategy for a new stage in resistance against Japan is designed to wallop Japanese forces who have extended themselves too far into the interior and over a wide area made themselves vulnerable.

Both Japanese and Chinese are encountering severe fighting and both apparently in the stages of an all-front offensive, the former embittered at slowness of the Chinese military machine to crumble, and the latter, despite lack of supplies, determined to continue resistance.

Chinese, military and civilians, are united to prevent Japanese from making use of both natural and human resources in occupied areas. Chinese are attempting the establishment of guerrilla bases in the rear of Japanese forces. General Chou explained, making it impossible for the invaders to organize the civilian population into any form of government, and to exhaust the Japanese.

Japanese attacks in southern Shansi province have failed to dislodge an estimated 30,000 Chinese troops in the Chungtiang mountain range, five Nippon units continuing to pound at them in the severe heat of that area.

Japanese naval planes continue raids in North, Central and West China. The capital at Chungking is the main object of attack. The American and British gunboats there have not been attacked although they train their anti-aircraft equipment on the invading fliers as a precaution against a repetition of the Panay bombing near Nanking in December, 1937.

Reminiscing and renewing friendships will be the order of the day when hundreds of former and present residents of Silverdale gather in a home-coming celebration on Sunday afternoon.

The event which has been under preparation for months, is the first of its nature ever to be attempted in the borough, and it advances responses from former residents is an indication the town will undoubtedly experience one of the most outstanding functions in its history.

Sponsoring the occasion is the Silverdale Fire Company, which this year is observing its 25th anniversary, being founded in 1914.

Approximately 250 letters of invitation have been forwarded to former residents across the length and breadth of the country as far as known addresses would permit.

Rev. William H. Erb, D. D., Norris-town, will deliver a sermon in St. Paul's Reformer Church, Sellersville, on Sunday morning, when he will address about 40 boys from different parts of Bucks county.

The boys, who will attend the morning services, will stop in Sellersville en route to Indiantown Gap, where they will spend about two weeks at the Keystone State Boys Camp. They are being sponsored by various service clubs, Legion Posts, and fraternal groups throughout the county.

The Rev. Mr. Erb is to be in charge of the service, in the absence of Rev. James R. Shepley, who is vacationing near Harrisburg.

Nase-Kraft Legion Post, No. 255, Sellersville, is sending James Sellers, Jr., Philip Chapman and Donald Sell to the camp, while Moose Lodge, No. 1539, Sellersville, will sponsor Harry Souder. The Sellersville Kiwanis Club is making itself responsible for Lloyd Fosbenner, Jr., and William Masel.

Pa. First-Aid Council Meets at Burholme; Now Has 15 Units Enrolled

A G R E E O N I N S I G N I A

When the Pennsylvania State First Aid Council met in Burholme last evening, Robert McGovern, Parkland, the president, occupied the chair. Mr. McGovern was formerly of Crofton. Serving in their official capacities at this meeting at which Burholme First Aid Corps was host, were Joseph S. Law, Parkland, secretary; and Mr. Clark, Souderton, treasurer.

The subject of the insignia to be used by the Council was discussed, and it was agreed to adopt an insignia smaller to that used by New Jersey First Aid Council, featuring a yellow cross. The only change will be in the name to be placed on same. This insignia will be displayed on the front of all cars owned by members of the council, providing they have adequate first aid kits in the machine.

The Council will seek to have the state gasoline tax refunded on all gasoline purchased for the ambulances of squads in the Pennsylvania council.

Co-operation with each other was one of the subjects of members of the squads, as well as co-operation with other agencies. Lansdale Unit has had a transmitter installed in its station, and will co-operate with state police. Later that squad plans to equip its ambulance with a portable transmitter. It is expected that ambulances of the council will at a future date have receivers installed.

A military corps has been formed, this being attached to the council, and to operate on military lines so that work in catastrophes will be better understood. It is the object of such to aid residents in stricken areas in protective health measures, in instruction in care of water, etc.

Units answering the roll call were: Crofton, Parkland, Roslyn, Lansdale, Landsdowne, Quakertown, Souderton, Burholme. Two new units were accepted into membership, making 15 in the council in all. It has been but six months since the council was organized.

"REAL" NATURE RECORDED

PARIS — (INS) — Marital troubles on phonograph records is the latest style here for settling divorce cases. When a Frenchman took his case into court, he claimed his wife was very "sweet" when friends were present, but that her real nature came out "when we were alone." To prove it, he played several phonograph records in court which his lawyer termed good evidence. Decision was reserved by the somewhat surprised judge.

TWO INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS YESTERDAY

Miss Elizabeth Mark, Phila., Sustains Injuries To Head and Forehead

P. TOCHTERMAN HURT

A Philadelphia woman and a Cornwells Heights resident were injured yesterday in two separate accidents in this section.

Miss Elizabeth Mark, 2442 N. Front street, Philadelphia, was injured when the automobile in which she was riding struck a tree near Bristol last evening at 5:40 o'clock. Four stitches were required at Harriman Hospital to close the forehead wound.

The driver of the car was Edward Hedding, 5229 N. Second street, Philadelphia, who was uninjured. The two were traveling in Hedding's car, en route out Woodbourne Road to Edgely, at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Mark returned to her home after treatment.

What Would Isaac Walton Think?

(By "The Stroller")
An Eddington lad, eight years of age, enjoys his vacations tremendously—that is, whenever he is near a stream or lake, and can fish to his heart's content.
A few days ago, while on vacation, he entered the cottage and inquired of his mother: "Do you have a brown shoe-string, or a piece of one?"
Questioned as to the purpose to which it was to be put, he answered: "Oh, I ran out of worms, and I thought I could fool the fish!"

Virtually Abandon Hope For 27 Entombed Men

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 15—(INS)—As anguished families stood fearfully by, hope was virtually abandoned today for 27 men caught underground by an explosion in the Divin soft coal mine near Providence.

Nine out of the thirty-six at work in the mine reached safety after the blast, but as the hours passed without further word, it was believed the others had either been killed outright or gassed to death.

On the chance, however, that at least a few remained alive, skilled rescue workers inched their way slowly forward in the perilous attempt to reach the danger spot, nearly 2½ miles from the entrance of the mine and 181 feet underground.

James Gold, outside foreman of the mine, explained the rescue crews were in constant peril and forced to reconnoiter each step they took.

Their gas masks, he said, might prove inadequate to a thick layer of "black damp" or mine gas. Thus, as they moved forward, they had to patch the chinks and cracks blown open in the mine walls by the explosion in order that fresh air being pumped in behind them did not filter out.

With the walls of the tunnel or "entry" intact they were able to push in fair safety in a protecting pocket of the clean air.

Approve Plan, Providing Fishing at Sellersville

SELLERSVILLE, July 15—Sellersville borough council has approved a project which will provide fishing for the public, revenue for the treasury and stock for Lake Lenape, here.

On two Sundays, the date to be announced, the basin will be opened to the public for fishing at a small charge. The fishermen will be required to use barbless hooks.

Each person will be permitted to keep six fish, and any more that are caught must be turned in and placed in Lake Lenape. The use of barbless hooks will prevent injury to the fish that are to be used for stock.

HUMILIATING THE BRITISH

For the moment the Japanese anti-foreign drive in China is being directed chiefly against the British. Americans and Frenchmen have not been subjected to the indignities by which Japanese authorities seem bent on undermining the prestige enjoyed by Englishmen in that part of the Orient.

This difference of attitude, however, must be considered in the light of future as well as present possibilities. In spite of the politeness which Japanese officials have shown toward American authorities, it is evident that the ultimate objective of Tokyo is the smothering of all alien influences in China except her own. Since the British present the greatest obstacle to this accomplishment, both physical and psychological means are being employed to penetrate it.

The use of barbed wire barriers charged with electricity to enclose Tientsin and its residents, coupled with the ultimatum that Britain had better accept the new order in Asia or take the consequences, is one phase. The other is to be seen in the humiliations Japanese guards have imposed on Britishers seeking to pass the barrier even though equipped with proper permits and identification cards. In front of curious Chinese men and women, eight white persons were partly stripped and roughed up a bit by the Japanese soldiers. The idea seems to be to show the Chinese that Britishers are not godlike, but just the same as other men; and that the Japs themselves have no difficulty making them behave.

In this crisis, the United States has played a cautious game. While protesting the principle on which Tokyo is proceeding, Americans have not taken a belligerent attitude. Even when defying the order to take all our ships out of the Swatow zone, our naval officers couched their protest in such moderate terms, promising to avoid interference with Japanese operations so far as was consistent with the duty of looking after American interests, that Japanese headquarters issued a statement of appreciation of our "sympathetic attitude."

Although Americans are being shown special courtesies now, we can scarcely hope for continued solicitude if the British are mopped up by the Japanese war machine. For that reason, we have a stake in the dispute at Tientsin; and our interests in China are bound to be affected by the outcome. Primarily it is a test of British power in China, but ultimately it will be a showdown on the status of all aliens except the Japanese, in the Orient.

The Unions stand firm at the New York Fair, saying that foreign exhibitors are trying to undermine American labor standards. If there is any undermining to be done, let us favor our domestic experts.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1939

King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD.—To interview

Mrs. Vera Zorina, pampered darling of Broadway, recently said: "When my husband and I work on the ballet, we are strictly teacher and pupil."

To Vera's remarks, Hollywood said:

"Just another publicity blurb."

The film crowd are changing their tune after watching the dynamic George Balanchine (accent on the second syllab-and last syllable) pronounced like "chin") drive the ballerina through rehearsals for

"On Your Toes."

In front of 100 people, Balanchine compelled the shapely Vera to do 36 rehearsals of a number before giving it his okay. Once, he had her in tears.

Oh, to be a mouse (maybe rat is the better word) when Norma

Shearer invites the entire cast of "The Women" to her house to get their first look at the picture. No male escorts are to be allowed.

Only man present probably will be

George Cukor, the director.

Terrifying experience of Singer

Vi Bradley. The chanteuse, well known to Londoners and New Yorkers in addition to the cinema crowd, ordered a microphone installed in her house the other day to practice numbers for her coming appearance at Marcell's. Before the work was completed, Vista took hold of a live wire. The current, not much for an adult, knocked the baby senseless. Vi gave frantic first aid until the doctor arrived and is still shaking from the experience.

Cecilia Parker and Dick Baldwin have sold their valley ranch and, no doubt, the separation rumors will follow. Truth is, the couple are taking a vacation to Las Vegas and Lake Tahoe, and will live in them in the first place."

Very strange to watch Jackie

Cooper shooting scenes for "Seventeen." He went fishing the other day and didn't wear any shoes. His feet now are so sunburned that they can't stand the pressure of leather.

Unless it's a scene where Jackie's feet have to show, he works barefoot, except for bandages.

The Keystone Cop comedy—it will be a picture within a picture in "Hollywood Cavalcade"—is being directed by the veteran Mal

St. Clair.

We like his crack about the assignment:

"I'm the only man in Hollywood making silent pictures today."

No doubt about newcomer Brenda

Joyce (Fern in "The Rains Came") getting a real workout in her first film. She was put through a movie earthquake, a flood and, on the last day of shooting, had to do a scene in a rowboat where two eagles lit on her shoulder. All she had to do, instructed Bird

Trainer Curly Twiford, was not to appear nervous. "If you do," he said, "they may clamp down with their talons."

Scene went through okay but it was no fun.

They've always said that Rudy

Vallee is a bad screen subject, but

Cameraman Leon Shamroy makes you think differently in "Second Fiddle" . . . A swell picture

this, don't miss

it. . . And Irving

Berlin's "I

Poured My

Heart Into a

Song" is one of the year's most haunting melodies. . . Is Clara

Bow seriously ill? . . . Hollywood report is that she has been in the hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. . . If Dave Selznick says the word, Gable gets his first short haircut in seven months today. . . Talk about luck. Virginia Field went to pose for some pictures at a fur store and left a diamond and ruby clip on a sable coat. It was still there when she missed it and frantically called the shop—a week later. . . Dick Arlen is 15 pounds thinner. . .

which shows you what ranch life will do. . . And Anita Louise for the fourth year in a row, had all her Christmas presents bought and wrapped by July 4.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

With laughter its sole mission, and zany its emissaries of hilarity amid the snowy grandeur of the Alpine mountains, "Bridal Suite," with Robert Young and Annabella, opens today at the Grand Theatre.

Aiding and abetting the leads are Walter Connolly as a psychiatrist, Reginald Owen as a penniless English lord anxious to marry off his daughter to money, Gene Lockhart as Young's father, Arthur Treacher as another member of the English nobility and Billie Burke as Young's flutery mother.

There's exciting news for the millions of Jane Withers fans whose enthusiasm for her pictures has put the mischievous miss right up among the first ten most popular screen stars. Jane's got her first "crush" in her newest film, "Boy Friend." She goes romantic for the first time on the screen, but it's in that madcap Withers way.

BRISTOL THEATRE

A new method of obtaining finger prints in crime detection will be shown in Paramount's expose, "Undercover Doctor" which comes to the Bristol Theatre today.

A glimpse into the future is afforded by "SOS—Tidal Wave," a Republic picture showing Sunday at the Bristol Theatre.

An outstanding cast has been lined up for Monogram's exciting story of blackmail and its effects on seven lives, "Should a Girl Marry?" which is now playing at the Bristol theatre.

RITZ THEATRE

Universal's new Bing Crosby-Joan

Blondell picture, "East Side of Heaven," is now at the Ritz Theatre. Bing is a cruising troubadour, or to put it more plainly a singing taxi driver. Joan, his sweetheart, is a hotel telephone operator. Mischa Auer is Bing's unemployed roommate who has learned from reading the stars that he should not even look for work until 1942.

"The Kid from Texas," coming Sunday midnight to the Ritz Theatre, is second of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sports pictures featuring O'Keefe. Florence Rice is the star. It is the hilarious adventure of a Texas cowboy who learns to play polo and invades the Long Island social set with comic and sometimes thrilling results.

YARDLEY

Mrs. Hunter Smith was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Forrest, Fallsington.

TONY SARULLO KNOWS HOW TO THROW FISTS

Tony Sarullo, the very promising featherweight from Philadelphia, has been called the Ned Sparks of the prize ring. This name has been tagged on him by the various sports writers because of the serious mien which Sarullo always carries when he is within the ropes. Outside the ring Tony is a very mannerly and quiet young man with a well developed sense of humor. In fact he gets plenty of laughs from funny situations as they arise.

But whether he is dubbed "Ned Sparks" or Tony Sarullo, he can throw those fists when he swings into action once the bell clangs. His future as a featherweight seems assured within the squared circle and his manager, Jimmy Wilson, is taking him along slowly in his climb up the fistie ladder. Tony gets a severe test on Monday night when he meets Ricari Toma, of New York, in an eight-round contest that is the first part of a double wind-up arranged by Promoter Joe Gruerio at St. Ann's Open Air Arena.

The last part of the double bill brings together for eight rounds that hard punching Italian from Philadelphia, Frank Donofrio, and his opponent will be Mickey Finn of Tullytown. This contest was closed after much haggling over terms on the part of the promoter and the managers of the two boys.

The main preliminary is scheduled for six rounds and will show Lenny Dever of Bristol against that former amateur champion, Joe Amico, of Philadelphia. Three four-rounders make up the balance of the show. Johnny Morello of Philadelphia meeting Benny "Killer" O'Neill of Trenton in the opener, while the second contest will bring to the Bristol ring for the first time Willie Lucas of Philadelphia, and his opponent is Freddy Badassi, of Trenton. The third four will show the Trenton White Hope, Lou Angelo, against Bill Wright of Philadelphia. The first contest is scheduled to get under way at 8.45 p. m. The doors will be opened at 7 p. m.

DIAMONDS ADVANCE AS THEY DOWN GRUNDYS

The Diamond team increased its lead on first place in the Bristol Twilight League last evening on Landreth's field by taking the measure of the Grundy nine, 5-2. It was the fourth straight victory for the boys of Joe Diamanti.

On the mound for the winners was Ad Helveston and during the fray he was credited with twelve strikeouts. He allowed five hits. Opposed to him was Joe Antonelli who gave up seven hits. Both hurlers pitched good ball throughout but the support of both clubs was rather loose.

Frank Aldrich found his batting eye last evening and socked out a triple and single. He counted three runs. Avella also had two out of three while Mel Wright had the same for the Grundy team.

Grundy will meet the Odd Fellows Monday evening in a postponed game.

WHEN BETTINA LOST HIS CROWN

Mello Bettina, of Beacon, N. Y., is shown at the left, in the process of losing his light heavyweight championship of the world to Billy Conn, of Pittsburgh. Conn's tina crown after the Pittsburgher dropped the first four rounds to the Beacon southpaw. The fight, in Madison Square Garden, New York City, went the 15-round limit without a knockdown.

LANDRETHS HAS NOT LOST IN 12 STARTS

Attention of the Bristol baseball fans, who are familiar with the fine work of Landreth's Seeds nine, one of the best teams that ever represented Bristol, is called to the club's record of the past month.

The last game that Landreth lost was on June 12th, and on June 15th they played a tie game with Albright of Trenton 2-2, the best team in Trenton, formerly called the O'Donald's. June 17—Mayfair, 0; Landreth, 6. June 22—Ardmore of the Main Line League, 5; Landreth, 5. June 25—Roebing, 1; Landreth, 6. July 1—Albright, 3; Landreth, 6. July 2—Phila. Police, 7; Landreth, 8. July 4—R. D. Wood, 3; Landreth, 4. July 8—Germantown Cardinals, 9; Landreth, 10.

July 9—Mt. Holly, 0; Landreth, 9. July 12—Ambler, 1; Landreth, 5. July 12—Wentz-Olney, 10; Landreth, 15. July 13—Ambler, 5; Landreth, 12.

It is noted from the above that Landreth has not lost any of the last 12 games played, winning 10 and tying two with a streak of nine victories in a row, in spite of the calibre of some clubs they have played.

The pitching staff composed of Howard Black, Lennie Heister and Al Carey, has come along in great shape; only twice has a pitcher been removed during a game by a relief man and in these two instances the Farmers finally won the games. Almost everywhere Landreth plays, the fans say it is the best looking ball club that has appeared on that field this year. The few games lost have been by close scores, one for instance being to Riverside 2-1, which is the club that the Farmers play here tomorrow.

It is stated that if for the balance of the year fans turn out in greater numbers than they have been, it will not be necessary for the Farmers to play most of their games out of town.

Grundy's Softball Ten Loses To Manhattans
